It is a Homecoming tradition to welcome families, alumni and famous people such as author Carl Sandberg. —1947

Perspective students and their parents view TSU as a picture for the future while framing pieces of the past. —1964

he Palladium represents a Troy State University time capsule. It reviews the past, records the present and offers a glimpse at the future. Since the first bound Palladium in 1912, each TSU yearbook reflects life on campus and in the world around it. The 1992 Palladium tries to capture 80 years of traditions and transitions at TSU.

t's difficult to understand where you are going unless you recognize where you have been.

The quality of life is dictated by an institution's ability to recognize quality traditions while making transitions towards higher goals. The 1992 Palladium theme: "Traditions and Transitions" strives to show how Troy State has grown, matured and prospered by recognizing its rich past while constantly searching for a better future.

et where the upper streams of Simois
flow
Was the Palladium, high 'mid rock and wood.

And Hector was in Ilium, far below,
And fought, and saw it not—but there it stood!

It stood, and sun and moon rained their light
On the pure columns of its glen—built hall.
Backward and forward rolled the waves of fight
Round Troy—but while this stood, Troy could not fall.

So, in its lovely moonlight, lives the soul.
Mountains surround it,
and sweet virgin air;
Cold splashing, past it,
crystal waters roll;
We visit it by moments, ah, too rare!

We shall renew the battle in the plain
Tomorrow-red with blood will Xanthus be;
Hector and Ajax will be there again,
Helen will come upon the wall to see.

Then we shall rust in shade,
or shine in strife,
And fluctuate 'twixt blind hopes and blind despairs,
And fancy that we put forth all our life,
And never know how
with the soul it fares.

Still doth the soul,
from its lone fastness high,
Upon our life
a ruling effluence send.
And when it fails,
fight as we will, we die;
And while it lasts,
we cannot wholly end.

Student Life . . . Traditional or Transitional?

An important aspect of student life is adjusting to cafeteria dining. A recent transition at Troy State is Pizza Hut Personal Pan Pizzas sold in The Grille.

Those Sometimes

When judging a book by its cover, one can only appreciate what is on the outside. If looking deeper, one will find the pages that it takes to make up the content. By looking at the outer appearance of Troy State University, one will find a traditionally impressive campus. It is not until one observes the spine and finds the people who are bound together to keep TSU moving successfully through transitions. Far too often, these people go unnoticed and unappreciated; yet, without them Troy State could not continue to be chapters in history.

INS&OUTS

Eating habits vary among students at Troy State University. While some students survive by using their meal ticket, others find luxury in dining out. On-campus meals include anything from a side salad to a spaghetti dinner. Between the hours of 12:00 and 2:00 pm, students may be found enjoying a deli sandwich in SAGA or a Personal Pan Pizza at The Grille.

Two new additions on fast food row are Taco Bell and Subway. Both offer not only quick delicious meals, but also convenient, late-night hours for students.

Although grades and classes are important aspects of traditional college life, the transition of student's eating habits reflects their hearty appetites.

Top: Students enjoy food offered 'your way, my way, Subway.' Bottom: Mealtime at SAGA brings good food as well as good company.

Left: With true friendship comes proof that opposites often attract. Right: Balloons uplift the spirit of friendship on Valentine's Day.

You know in your heart when you love someone. It is a word that draws different definitions and a feeling that grows in different situations. It matches like minds, personalities and philosophies and draws them together in a common bond. It lifts your spirits, strengthens your friendships and raises your expectations for one another. Love does make the world go around. And when it is present, it makes the trip through life so much smoother for those who share it.

With thoughtful words and generous actions, one can see that chivalry is far from dead.

Without Wheels

Many students on the TSU campus did not have vehicles. It may have seemed to others that without "a way to go" it would have been hard being at college. But really, it was not.

Dillon Reeves, a freshman from Tallahassee, Florida who lived in a fraternity house on campus, said that it was not hard to get from class to class without a car, since the TSU campus was a close one. One of his farthest classes was at the lagoon and he said that when he went to that class a friend would allow him to borrow his bike. Dillon stated that one of the greatest benefits of not having a car was saving money for gas. It made a big difference on how he spent the rest of his money.

Anne Bailey, a junior from Sarasota, Florida, was another TSU student without a vehicle at school. She lived on campus in Dill Apartments and agreed with Dillon that it was very easy to get to class. Overall, she said that it did not hinder her by not having a car, but sometimes "you just want to get away on your own." Anne stated that luckily she had great roommates who would let her borrow their vehicle. Anne lived off campus for a while and said that it was harder to do so without a car than when she lived on campus.

Dillon Reeves shows that it is not hard to be a TSU student without a vehicle.

Anne Bailey, a junior at TSU, borrows the keys to her roommate's car.

All in

Many students went off to college in order to escape their families and get their first real taste of freedom. For others, it was just the opposite. Sometimes, it was "all in the family."

Heath and Casey Deramus of Troy were siblings who both attended TSU together. Heath, the oldest, said that he and Casey rarely saw each other on campus. However, one quarter they had a class together which helped them both. They both decided to go to TSU because they had grown up in the area and knew a lot about the school. They felt most comfortable at TSU.

Brad and Shelly Weatherford from Uriah, Alabama were also a brother and sister team at TSU. Shelly said that it had helped out by having an older brother to give her a lot of advice about school. She also stated that it was nice to have a family member close to her in case any problems arose. Probably one of the main reasons that Shelly attended TSU was because Brad had been there a year and they were very close already. They saw each other on campus a lot and worked in the same building. They were even planning to live together.

Siblings D.C. and Marissa Locke from Enterprise, Alabama found that going to TSU together was good for their relationship. Although they were in two different fields, they helped each other with classwork and projects. As the oldest, D.C. helped Marissa with more domestic things and always was able to offer advice.

For Jim Clanton of Oneonta, Alabama, Troy State was a family tradition. Jim's mother Pat and his father Al were both students at Troy State in 1962. As a cheerleader and a football player, Pat Henderson and Al Clanton were an All-American couple. Jim could not deny the fact that being a TSU Trojan truly was "all in the family."

Honors

A night to remember: Honors Convocation 1992. On May 18, various students and faculty members were recognized for their outstanding achievements. Dr. Arlon E. Elser, program director of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, Michigan, gave the address on tradition and achievement.

Gordon McKerral received the highest teaching award at TSU: The Ingalls Award. He was awarded a plaque and one thousand dollars. Mr. McKerral served as assistant professor of journalism and the adviser of the Tropolitan and the Palladium.

The winners of the Algernon Sidney Sullivan Awards were Stephanie Anne Sterns, Manning Todd Russell, and Dr. Robert L. Pullen, associate professor of sociology. These awards were given annually to one male and one female graduate student and one non-student. Spiritual qualities such as dedication, honesty and compassion were evaluated when choosing the winners.

Graduation: The

Deep emotional feelings are evident in the eyes of graduates as they begin to map the route to new horizons.

Tradition Continues

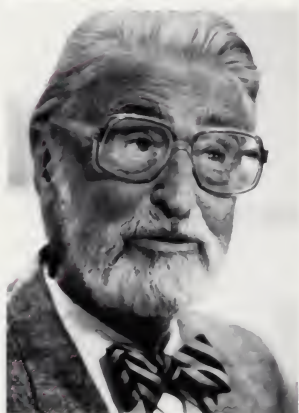

Seniors at Troy State University donned their caps and gowns in order to complete the final walk of their college career. Although graduation on May 29th was a time of pride and accomplishment, it was also a time of fear and uncertainty as graduates looked toward the future. Some graduates viewed this day as the closing of one door while others saw it as the opening of another. Job opportunities, new educational endeavors and a whole new way of life awaited the many students who received a quality education at TSU.

in the blink of an eye,
If anything, there's your sign of the times.
I'm alive and I'm waiting, waiting.
I'm alive and I'm waiting for you.
there isn't anyplace I'd rather be.
watching the world make history."*

Each year the Troy State University National Alumni Board of Directors awards honors in business, education and military service. Usually one alumnus receives this honor. However, 1991 was a year of transitions and choosing only one alumnus to receive the Alumni Honor in military service proved difficult. So, two alumni received the Military Alumni Honor. Dr. Billy Norman and his brother Joel Norman were recognized for their outstanding careers in the military. Clayton Bryant was presented the Education Alumni of the Year Honor. And Jim Bockman received the Business Alumni of the Year Honor. These men have become assets to the university and have helped promote Troy State throughout the nation.

Alumni: Past

There are many TSU alumni who have made great contributions to society. Mike Amos, Ben Beard, Virgil Collins and Larry Groce are just four of the many graduates that have gone on to great accomplishments that paved the way for those behind them.

Mike Amos served as both TSU National Alumni Association president and vice-president. Mr. Amos has been a coach and physical education teacher at Charles Henderson High School in Troy and also the athletic director at Pike Liberal Arts in Troy. Since 1972, he has worked for the Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs in Montgomery.

Ben Beard also served as president of the TSU National Alumni Association. Mr. Beard has been employed by General Motors Chevrolet and the Scott Paper Company. In May of 1969, he founded Beard Oil Company and is its president.

A 1920 TSU graduate, Virgil Collins served as the treasurer for the Alumni Association since 1955. Of his many accomplishments, he was a co-author of two textbooks. The first scholarship from the National Alumni Association is named for Mr. Collins and there is also a mathematical award named for him. The 1963 PALLADIUM and Square Root of C Math Club were dedicated to him.

Another president of the Alumni Association, Larry Groce is an accomplished alumni of the Sorrell College of Business. Since March of 1988 he has been employed by the J.C. Bradford and Company in Montgomery, where he was promoted to investment limited partner. Prior to his promotion, he served as 1st Vice-President for Investments at J.C. Bradford.

the MOVE!

"TSU is on the MOVE" served as the theme for Homecoming '91 as Troy State moved toward a Division I sports classification. The Homecoming theme proved to be true because the Trojans moved the football up and down the field to a 31-9 victory over the University of North Alabama Lions, a perfect ending to a week of fulfilled events.

Many Troy State students displayed their love and support for the Trojans throughout the week through participation in activities such as Homecoming T-shirt sales, TSU Jersey Day, Homecoming Queen elections, Yard Display Banner Competition, Skit Night, Paint the Town Red and Gray, the Homecoming Parade, Picnic on the Lawn, Torch Light Parade, Pep Rally and Laser Show, and the finale, the Homecoming game.

Supreme Justice

On Nov. 7, 1991, history was made at TSU.

In the Adams Center Performing Arts Theatre, the Alabama Supreme Court heard oral arguments from two cases. The special session at TSU was part of the court's effort to bring Alabama's legal system to schools and colleges throughout the state. It was the first time the high court allowed its proceedings to be broadcast live. TSU-TV carried live feeds on cable outlets in Pike and Montgomery counties.

This was a milestone for TSU. Students watched the tradition of the state's highest court come alive. Through new and modern ideas, such as television and special sessions at schools, the goals of making people aware of the judicial system became a reality.

Judge Mark Kennedy of Montgomery, Ala., strived to make his dreams of becoming a justice on the Alabama Supreme Court come true. A native of Greenville, Ala., he graduated from Auburn University in 1973 and received his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree, cum laude, from Cumberland School of Law. Judge Kennedy served as district, family and circuit court judge. In November 1988, he was elected as an Associate Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court which made him the youngest judge on the bench by 14 years.

Judge Kennedy believes that special sessions held at colleges and universities throughout the state provides a positive experience for Alabama citizens. It made people aware of the law around them and encouraged them to get involved in government. The public was able to view legitimate disputes on crime. Televising the Supreme Court session gave people a close view of the court while they witnessed the making of history for the first time in Alabama history.

Featuring TSU Traditions

The ACUB arranges entertaining concerts for TSU students. Eddie Money, performs his hit single 'Take Me Home Tonight,' in Sartain Hall during fall quarter.

Pamela Rigas described the Miss USA pageant as an unforgettable, whirlwind experience when she represented Troy State University as Miss Alabama. —1980

An annual tradition at Troy State University is sponsoring events that capture student interest. As time changes, so do these activities. TSU traditions include concerts, theater productions and beauty pageants. TSU concerts have featured musicians such as Linda Rondstat, Ronnie Milsap and the B-52s. However, 1992 brought a performance of comedians from Saturday Night Live, as well.

When the curtain closes on concerts, it raises on theater. Theater productions for TSU began on a small wooden stage in Kilby Hall. Now, TSU productions appear on stages using modern technology and extravagant sets. Not only are these performances staged in Smith Hall Auditorium and in the Adams Center Theater for the Performing Arts, but also at the newly remodeled Davis Theater in Montgomery.

When the spotlight dims on the theater stage, beauty pageant contestants provide a new glow. The name given to TSU-sponsored pageants has changed throughout the years. However the role of representing TSU for the reigning Miss TSU remains the same. Pageant importance has grown from coeds reigning over campus dances to 29 of TSU's finest young women seeking a spot in the Miss Alabama pageant.

Each year new productions feature programs that include players and props that always change.

On Feb. 22, 1992, Troy State crowned a new Miss TSU. Rebecca Castelli earned the title and honor. The 20-year-old junior vocal and choral music major also won the Talent Award. Miss Castelli received a one-year full-tuition scholarship to TSU along with many other gifts from local merchants. She hoped to represent TSU well at the Miss Alabama Pageant held in June.

This year, the pageant saw a transition in directors. Annemarie Bell and Leslie Fuller-Boutwell were the new co-directors who took over Jacqueline Smith's duties after her retirement.

The classic rocker Eddie Money made an appearance at TSU. He sang hits such as, "Think I'm In Love," "Peace In Our Time," and "Take Me Home Tonight." His entertaining performance gave students and the public a great night of fun.

Nealon & Wallace

Saturday Night Live's Kevin Nealon and comedian George Wallace provided a humor-filled show as TSU's winter performance. Nealon offered the famous "Hans and Frans" from his hit show. He involved the audience by talking to students one on one. Wallace took a humorous look at current issues and wowed the crowd with his talent. The comedians were a wonderful hit and left everyone laughing.

The Teahouse of the August Moon

Under the direction of Dr. David Dye, Troy State University presented the Pulitzer Prize winning play "The Teahouse of the August Moon" on Oct. 8, 1991. Based on the novel by Vern Sneider, the comedy by John Patrick was one of the most popular plays of all time. The play centered on the career of an Army occupation officer stationed in Okinawa and his attempts to teach natives the true spirit and meaning of democracy.

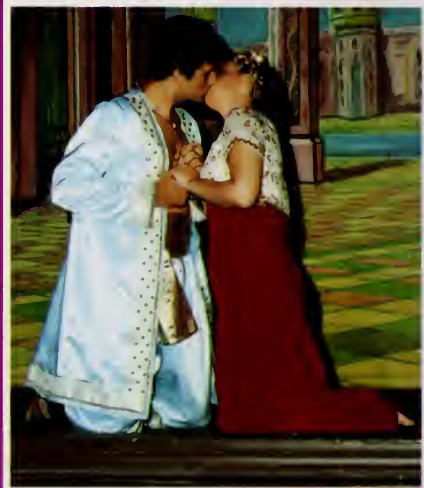

Troy State has its own 'superstars' that performed in 'The Teahouse of the August Moon.' Lead roles include Danny Gilroy, Michael Golebiewski, Rebecca Castelli, Stacy Prescott and Kelley MacLeod.

The King And I

In July 1993, Troy State University presented "The King And I." The cast included children from Troy as well as Troy State University students and faculty. Professors Ed Hicks and Catherine Allard and students Rebecca Casella and Kari McCall had leading roles in the production. Led by Opera Workshop Director Dr. Phil Keller, the cast and crew of "The King And I" saw all hard work and long practices pay off.

Merchant of Venice

On April 23, Troy State University presented the romantic comedy "The Merchant of Venice." The play took place in the 16th century and centered around the actions of a merchant named Antonio. In order to assist his friend's "wooing" of an heiress, he was forced to borrow money from a Jewish usurer named Shylock. In the event the money cannot be paid in 3 months, Shylock asked for a pound of flesh.

Lead roles included John Gibson, Danny Gilroy, Stacey Prescott, Michael Golebiewski and Rebecca Castelli.

West Side Story

On May 7 and May 9, the Troy State University Opera Workshop presented "West Side Story," a Broadway musical based on Shakespeare's tragedy "Romeo and Juliet." This drama depicts a love story between Tony, the leader of the Jets street gang, and Maria, sister of Bernardo who is the leader of the Puerto Rican rival gang, the Sharks. Set in New York City's west side, this musical made its way into the hearts of the audience by making them aware of the prejudices in the world and sending them a message to end it. Under the direction of Dr. Phil Kelley, the students who performed in the cast and crew did an excellent job and entertained the audience with their wonderful talents.

Lead characters of TSU's production of "West Side Story" were Brian Sikes as Tony, Lisa Adams as Maria, Alfredo Cruz as Bernardo, and Rebecca Castelli as Anita. More people who played important roles in the musical were Jim Campbell, Danny Gilroy, Michael Golebiewski, Patrick Green, Russ Teal, Cathy Davidson, Kelly MacLeod, Sharon Sossaman, C.K. Braun, Angie Childree and Dr. Richard Hawk.

The Nerd

On Feb. 27, 1992, TSU presented "The Nerd." The action centered around a young architect who is visited by a man he has never met but claimed to have saved his life in the Vietnam War. The visitor turns out to be a hopelessly dimwitted "nerd" who wears out his welcome with a vengeance. Lead roles were Patrick Green, Jake Barrow, C.K. Braun, Adrian King and Kelley MacCleod.

Transitional Times with Traditional People

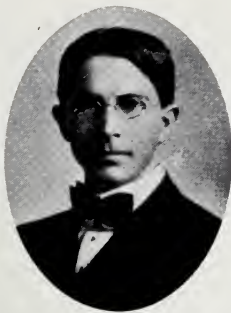

TSU strives to provide a quality education throughout the world, one student at a time. A General Studies program includes Visual Arts and provides broad-based support for major fields.

Virginia Mary — 1937

Over 21,000 students have graduated from Troy State since 1912. Graduation ceremonies have grown in numbers from ten to nearly a thousand.

Troy State University has educated many students. Each one with a different personality and different interests. Throughout time, the goal for each individual has been success, and the goal for the university has been successfully educating each individual.

From year to year, numerous transitions have taken place among people. Hairstyles and fashion trends have changed tremendously, but the memories of college life will be treasured forever.

Troy State has a reputation for attracting students with high ideals and leadership qualities. Traditionally, TSU graduates excel in all areas. While in school, students strive to obtain good scholarship habits and an enjoyable social life. The potential does not stop after graduation, and Troy State alumni may be found in successful leadership positions across the nation.

During the past eighty years, many students have attended class and have made significant contributions to the university. All in all, times change and students change, yet quality at TSU remains the same.

Gone But Not Forgotten

During the past year, three students lost their lives in automobile accidents. The student body and faculty of Troy State University still mourn their deaths.

André Blair (Nov. 29, 1970 to April 20, 1991) was born to the late James Blair Sr. and Jeanette Blair in Monroe County in Amory, Mississippi. This 21-year-old football player will be missed by the team and coaches as athlete and friend.

"André was new to Troy State. However, we enjoyed the time that God allowed us to spend with him. Getting to know André was interrupted by death. It was as if when you come off the practice or playing field and there is only one cup of water left on the sideline for you. And as you approach that cup of water, it spills over and is absorbed into the ground. That is how I felt, when André left this place. He is deeply missed." —Antjuan Marsh

Terra Davis (July 6, 1969 to Oct. 4, 1991) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert M. Davis, was born in Columbus, Ga. Terra was a senior and a member of Phi Mu Sorority.

"Terra was a very compassionate friend. She was strong-willed and stood proud in her beliefs. Terra was all these things because she was a Christian and that's how she most affected my life." —Tatiana Sugg-Pierry

Chuck Lee (March 14, 1972 to May 6, 1992) son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee, grew up in Centerville, Ala. Chuck was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

"Chuck never had a frown on his face and looking at him always made you smile. He shared his happiness and passion for life with everyone he encountered. Chuck will always be remembered, honored, cherished and loved by everyone he touched. 'He Danced A Good Dance'." —Pam Gilliland

Organizations with a Touch of Tradition

Campus organizations serve as an outlet for students to gain not only new friendships, but also leadership abilities. The Trojan Ambassadors serve as the official hosts and hostesses for TSU.

Students at the State Teachers College view the moon and stars through a modern telescope of 1950. — 1955

Students bound by a common interest, whether scholastic ability or extra-curricular involvement, enjoyed their times together as key members of Troy State University. Without the traditional organizations as well as the new organizations on campus, TSU students would lack much of their enthusiasm and their powerful drive toward success.

Organizations on campus not only serve the student body, but also the faculty and community of Troy. Different groups possess different goals; however, they each encourage students through their activities, beliefs and service projects.

TSU is to many a "home away from home," and its organizations have helped create this atmosphere. Many organizations, such as the Wesley Foundation and the Baptist Student Union, have been a part of TSU for some 40 years. Others, such as the Environment Club and Society of Professional Journalists, have shorter life lengths. All organizations, regardless of age or membership, have contributed greatly to the quality of education offered by TSU.

COLLEGIATES

Singing The

Soloist Carol Blakeley sings 'Rejoice Greatly' a piece from the Messiah.

Under the direction of Dr. William Denison, the Collegiates remained active this year with a variety of performances including campus concerts, tours and television performances. Handel's Messiah, a sacred oratorio, was presented to Troy State students and the public as the Winter Quarter concert. The singers' hard work, dedication and hours of practice made the production outstanding. The Collegiates have made their name well known by performing in churches and high schools throughout the area.

Christy Clark sings 'He Shall Feed His Flock' while the next soloist awaits her part.

Collegiate Way

The Collegiates sing selections from the oratorio 'The Messiah'.

Away From Home

Students found that living on campus provided them with several advantages. Many enjoyed the convenience of having classes, meals and activities only a short walk away. Residents in Alumni Hall were entertained by video games, pool tables and ping-pong tables. All of the halls provided lobbies where students gathered with friends to watch favorite programs. Palladium

The Palladium staff worked hard to produce a book with unique ideas that capture the year's most memorable moments. In September, the editors met to assign a section to each staff member. Many hours of creating and designing went into each page. The staff enjoyed developing its own concepts to capture the theme of "Traditions and Transitions." Deadlines meant learning to organize and plan ahead for scheduling pictures. As the year continued, more deadlines passed which in turn led to the final product. The staff consisted of work study, workshop and volunteer students. Many spent 15 hours and more each week working toward the production of the 1992 Palladium.

Want to Lead - of the Way

The Student Government Association rose to new heights this year. With a new focus and an ambitious attitude, the SGA not only worked to better represent the students but also gave new life to the idea that the students are what is most important about Troy State University. With such programs as Designated Driver, Recycling and Student Discount Cards, the SGA worked to better the individual student's life. By creating a strong, unified, lobbying effort, the SGA broadened its responsibility by giving students a voice in the education system, a voice they deserved. As Troy State University continued on the move, so did the SGA. With undivided dedication and hard work, the officers and senators created a memorable year in campus life at Troy State University.

These dedicated saxophonist perform in parades as one of their many activities.

Director of The Sound of the South, Dr. John Long, "is an inspiration to everyone," says band member Greg Heyn.

Under the direction of Dr. John Long, The Sound of the South was not only a well recognized band, but it played an invaluable role providing Trojan spirit. The band spent many hours practicing for pep rallies, games and Troy State University's Homecoming Parade; however this dedication and practice paid off. The Troy State University band charmed many audiences with the diversity of its music. The band performed at three exhibition games this year. The games were high school competitions in which The Sound of the South served as entertainment.

The famed Sound of the South band members were viewed as a highly motivated segment of the student population. The band served as a prime example of what can be achieved through hard work and strong leadership.

Traditionally Fraternal, Transitionally Greek

Greek life at TSU includes much more than socializing. It contributes to local as well as national charities. The SAE taxi provides a pick-me-up for the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

 Bottom: The TSU Greek monument records the beginning of each organization. —1992

Among the colorful jerseys and spirit-filled cheers, lies a tradition that seems foreign to some. The Greek system at TSU focuses on unity and support. The Greek system was a dream for many college men and women in the early 1900's and has become a reality for many today.

The first fraternities and sororities at TSU had an average membership of eight to ten. Each organization adopted a motto, a flower and a badge. Each group had a special name that exemplified its personality such as the Sleepy Club and the Grasshopper Club.

As time passes, Greek life changes, and its benefits grow. Fraternities and sororities are more than a social club. Additional responsibilities face Greeks today. They must eliminate hazing, educate members about the use of alcohol and recognize liability for each brother or sister. Fraternities and sororities offer scholastic encouragement and community involvement. Each member takes part in every aspect of Greek life while holding sacred the ritual and motto of his organization.

Dr. Doug Hawkins made the dream of national fraternity affiliation at Troy State a reality. Now joining the first national fraternity at TSU, Pi Kappa Phi, are eight fraternities and seven sororities. Approximately 25% of the student body are members of the Greek system. Each member, past and present, has experienced the unity and support and enjoyed a new family through Greek life at TSU.

ALPHA DELTA PI

The Epsilon Kappa chapter of Alpha Delta Pi celebrated 25 years on Troy State's campus. ADPi's first chapter was founded 1851 at Wesleyan Women's College in Macon, GA. The first national sorority's symbols are the lion and woodland violet flower. The ADPi's signature color, azure blue, adorns the dress they wear while involved in almost every association on campus. The sorority won the 1991 All Sports Trophy in intramurals and was recognized for having the most participants in the Red Cross Blood Drive. ADPi supports the Ronald McDonald House by annually sponsoring a Most Wanted Man contest.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

The first chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority was founded in 1904 in Syracuse, NY. The Gamma Sigma Chapter on Troy State's campus has made a commitment to leadership and academic excellence for more than 20 years. This year, AGD succeeded in all philanthropies sponsored by fraternities and sororities on campus. The Gamma Sigma Chapter held their annual fund-raiser to benefit Juvenile Diabetes. AGD was the first women's fraternity to establish a philanthropy. The squirrel was named the mascot of AGD "to symbolize the spirit of energetic alertness and progress." AGDs showed this progression by being evident in all organizations on campus and excelling in scholarship.

DELTA SIGMA THETA

The national chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was established in January 1913 at Howard University. The Nu Theta Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta became a great asset to Troy State University since it was organized in 1976. The sisters of Delta Sigma Theta were recognized as having the highest overall grade point average of any Greek organization on campus Fall Quarter 1991. Along with their scholastic achievements, they also contribute time and support to families in the community who are in need of food and clothing. This year was a productive year for the members of Delta Sigma Theta Chapter. They sponsored an "Adopt-A-Mile" program, a "Jazz on the Block" concert and worked at a Fall Festival with Shellborn Elementary School.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

chapters of SAE found on college campuses nationwide. SAE was originated in 1856 at the University of Alabama. It was the first national fraternity established in the South. SAE has lead the way by having the first National Leadership School that started in 1935 and was the first to build a national headquarters, which is located in Evanston, Ill.

SAE has an elite, devoted brotherhood who are involved in all aspects of campus activities—from varsity athletics to Mortar Board. This year, SAE donated thousands of dollars to their philanthropy, the American Cancer Society. Although SAE is a social fraternity, it is more than just parties, it is looked upon as fraternity for life.

KAPPA DELTA

SIGMA CHI

In 1977, the Eta Phi Chapter of Sigma Chi became the first fraternity to build a house on Troy

State's campus. Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded in Oxford, Ohio, in 1855. The fraternity started with a breakaway from Delta Kappa Epsilon over a dispute regarding injustice on the college campus of the University of Miami.

This summer, Eta Phi was one of 34 chapters who won the highest honor bestowed to a Sigma Chi Chapter, the Peterson Award. It marked Sigma Chi's sixth Peterson in 15 years, and first since 1982.

Sigma Chi sponsored a week of festivities called Derby Days to benefit the Cleo Wallace Center in Colorado for mentally handicapped and psychologically disturbed children. It also supported Goshen Middle School Haunted House and the Troy Toys for Tots Campaign.

SIGMA PI

The Delta Psi Chapter of Sigma Pi was the newest fraternity on Troy

State's Campus. It has grown tremendously since it first arrived in Winter 1989. During the past few years, the Sigma Pi Fraternity has increased the number of its brothers and strengthened its brotherhood by working together in everything they do. Sigma Pi sponsored a Snow Bunny Contest this year to raise money for its philanthropy. The brothers of Sigma Pi are an inspiration to each other as well as to other groups on campus.

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity was founded in 1906 at Ithaca, N.Y.'s Cornell University. The Xi Beta Chapter arrived at Troy State University in May of 1978. The brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha uphold the high standards of their National Order by promoting "manly deeds, scholarship and love for all mankind," through various service projects on campus and in the community. Alpha Phi Alpha has held an annual Homecoming Greek Show and canned-food drive to support Pike County. During Valentine Week, they supported a Safe Sex Campaign on TSU's campus. In addition, they hosted events in remembrance of their late fraternity brother, Martin Luther King Jr.

Alpha Phi Alpha's president, Derek Ellington, was awarded second place for his oratorical presentation during the District Conference for the state of Alabama at Auburn University. Miss Michelle Brookes represented Alpha Phi Alpha at its regional convention in Mobile, Ala.

The strongest symbol of Alpha Phi Alpha is the Egyptian Sphinx head which alludes to silence, perseverance, honesty, integrity, nobility and excellence.

The Sigma Tau Zeta Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha at TSU has carried on the tradition of hard work and determination over the past several years. 1991-92 was a great year for the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha. Their Winter Quarter philanthropy consisted of a Sorority President Kidnap (SPK) which was a tremendous success. Along with other organizations on campus, the Lambda Chi Fraternity contributed its time and can goods to help the homeless in Pike County.

Greek Giving

Every year members of the Greek system at TSU make lasting contributions to campus as well as the community. Panhellenic Council, IFC and individual fraternities or sororities plan events to help others. Philanthropy projects take place annually to help those less fortunate; however, 1992 was a year of transition for Troy State's Greeks.

Along with the American Red Cross, the Panhellenic Council sponsored a "Jail-n-Bail" program to increase the number of blood donors at TSU. Faculty, staff and students were jailed and had to persuade at least 10 individuals to donate in order to be rescued.

Members of the International Fraternity Council worked together this year to benefit non-profit organizations. During Greek Week, IFC made getting wet worth it at a car wash held in the parking lot of a local gas station Spring Quarter. People were asked to give a dollar donation with all proceeds going to the SGA Designated Driver Program.

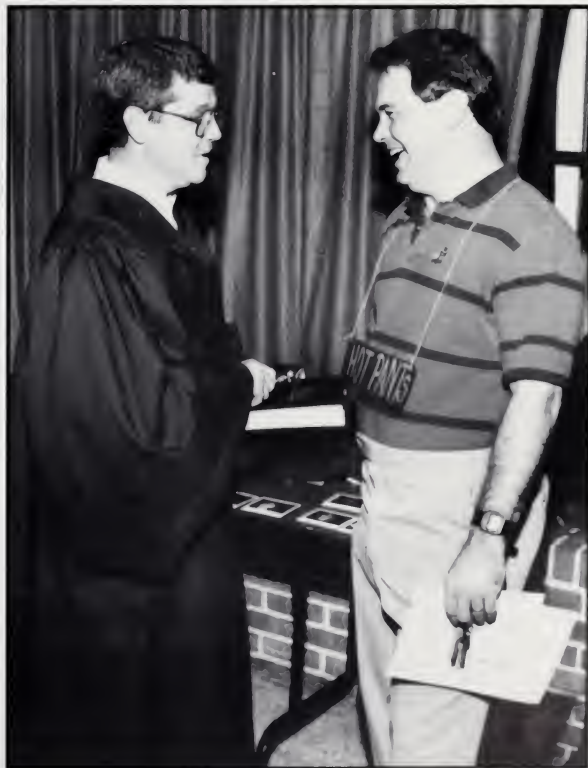

On an individual basis, the sisters of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority organized an Adopt-a-Teacher program. This was designed so that each Greek organization was asked to take the responsibility of pampering at least one professor for the day with cards, goodies and flowers. The purpose of the program was to recognize and give thanks to individual professors for their time, effort and support which they offer to the university and to students.

Fraternat Friendships

Making new friends at college seemed to be one of the greatest challenges for some people to overcome. But no matter how many additional friends were made, the old friends were still the best. At Troy State, it was evident that true friendships survived even if one was a member of a different social sorority or fraternity.

Although Greek friends may not have looked the same on the outside wearing a different colored jersey and different letters, the time and secrets shared were surprising. Some were roommates, classmates or high school buddies, and others were just good companions.

College life brought headaches and heartaches, but nothing was better than making memories with friends that would last a life time!

The Panhellenic Council served as the governing body of all the sororities at Troy State University. Each sorority selected two delegates to represent its organization on the council. Throughout the year Panhellenic has served not only the university, but also the community of Troy. Blood drives, recycling, workshops, educational sessions and a band party were just a few of the many activities provided by Panhellenic. This council strove to promote a spirit of fraternal sisterhood as well as a positive image of Greek life at TSU.

Each year the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils award two students and two non-students for their outstanding leadership and dedication to Greek life at TSU. Each sorority nominated a fellow student for the honor of serving as Miss Panhellenic. They also nominated a non-student who has contributed much energy to sorority life to serve as Ms. Greek. The fraternities also nominated a student as Mr. IFC and a non-student for Mr. Greek, both of whom have made a great impact on fraternal life. The nominations were reviewed by a committee and the winners were chosen. Each of the year's winners deserved this high honor and were thanked and congratulated for their loyalty and love of TSU Greek life.

IFC

Fraternities at TSU were governed by a group of young men who serve on the Interfraternity Council. Each fraternity elected delegates to serve on this council and represent its organization. IFC worked diligently throughout the year to promote fraternal unity and support. They served the university, as well as the community. By sponsoring workshops and educational sessions, IFC attempted to better educate and inform the Greeks at TSU of problems they may encounter. IFC made a tremendous impact on the university, community and fraternal organizations through hard work and dedication to Greek life.

greek week

Greek Week was a time for fraternal unity on the field and off. Each Greek organization joined forces to enjoy a little sunshine and fun during the field events, as well as the canoe races. Tennis and track were other events that helped decide the overall Greek Week winners for the year, Kappa Delta sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Another important aspect of Greek Week was the educational session sponsored by the Panhellenic council and IFC. This session enlightened Greeks on the frightening topic of Date Rape. The whole week was not only fun and spirited, but also a time of bonding for each organization as they learned the importance of Greek loyalty, love and sportsmanship.

Miss Venus

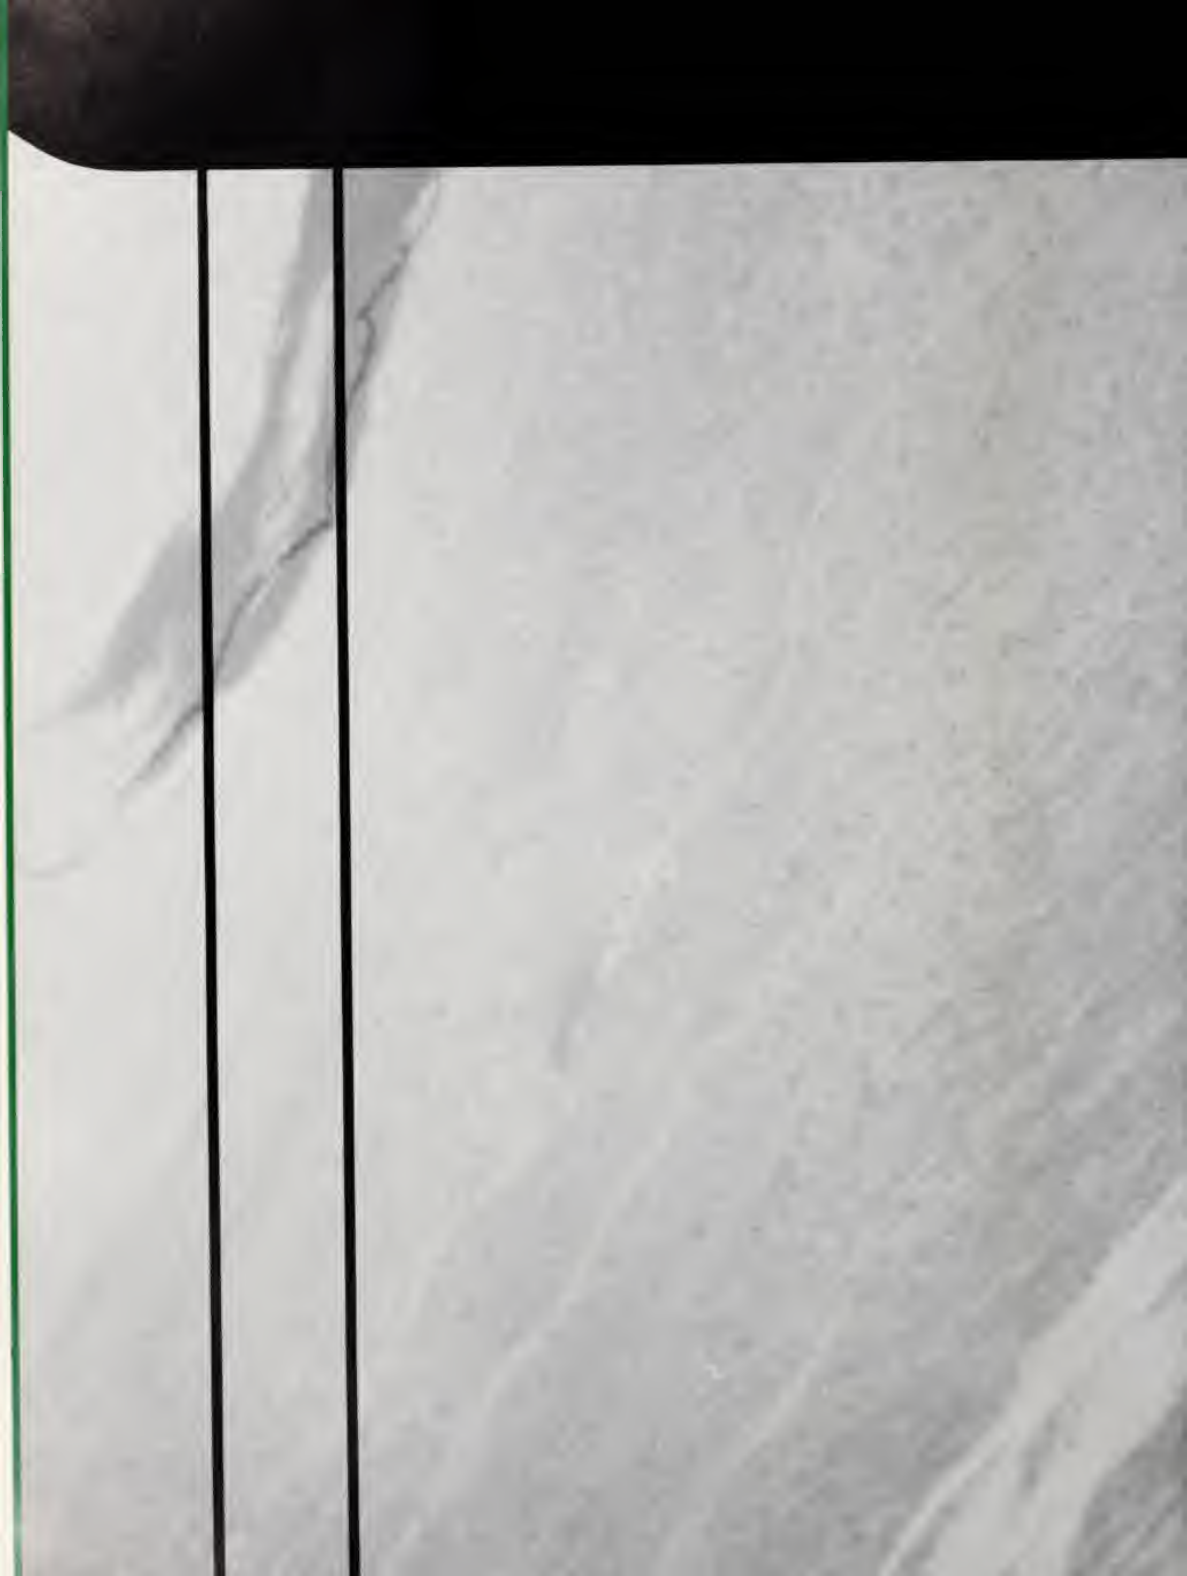

Miss Angela Radolph walked away with the title in the 1992 Miss Venus Pageant held during Greek Week. Radolph was sponsored by Sigma Chi Fraternity. Twenty-nine girls represented various sororities and fraternities on Troy State University's Campus. Each girl modeled an evening gown of her choice. The top five girls selected were asked a question about Greek Life on stage. The five winners were: Angela Radolph, Katie Meant, Lisa Lindsay, Michelle Sheltie and Tiffany McNeal.

Sonya Fortune (97) Miss Venus and Ashley Aaron hosted the evenings events. Highlighting the evening was singing entertainment provided by Michelle Mobson, Kari Turton, Jennifer Johnson, Dee Dapine and Tanya Thompson.

Sporting a Transition

As the TSU sports program takes on the Division I challenge, fans travel from throughout the region to witness history in the making. The volleyball team serves up victory and sportsmanship to athletics at TSU.

From the sideline, a football player watches as the Red Wave hitch up its britches and go to work. —1970

A look at the dedication, hard work and sweat of the past, shows Troy State's positive moves toward an even stronger athletic program. Standing firm in the athletic field, TSU's coaches and athletes are up to par. While establishing goals through championship programs, changes made on the field and off have provided a new spirit of "The Red Wave" at TSU.

The TSU sports tradition began with an eleven member football team and a three game season. Today's football team is made up of more than 100 young men who play in ten season games. Because of early successes in football, the athletic program grew and included new sports for both men and women.

A turning point of Trojan athletics has been the changing of coaches. In 1985, Coach Chase Riddle covered all the bases for a national title in baseball. Coach Mike Griffin teed off a Gulf South Conference Championship for golf in 1983. In 1990 and 1991, the volleyball team was served a Gulf South Conference Championship under the coaching of Kim VanDerra. With the knowledge, skills and ambition of TSU's coaches, the success of athletics is out of bounds.

The role of the student athlete in the 1990's maintains tradition established by the university's earliest teams. Education is the point. Graduation is the goal. TSU continues to develop quality teams that represent the Trojans on the field today and in the world tomorrow.

On The Move To Div. I

Football ... The word itself brings a sense of excitement and enthusiasm over the Trojan supporters and spectators. The roar of the crowd, smell of fresh popcorn, socializing in the stands and especially watching your favorite team battle it out with its opponent — all make a fall quarter Saturday complete. However, the football season has a completely different meaning to a very distinct group of people, the players. Under the guidance and leadership of Coach Larry Blakeney and the rest of the coaching staff, the team members viewed football season as a time of hard work, dedication, cooperation, a few injuries and a lot of sweat.

The football team and staff had many changes to overcome before entering the 1991 season. The resignation of Coach Robert Maddox on Dec. 3, 1990 meant the team would have a new coach and assistant coaches, new direction and new outlook.

Spotlight on Players

Spotlight on players gives personal views of some of the starters. These starters possessed individual talents that blended to make a successful team.

Ever since Bo Pittman was 5 years old, he has played football. He said it was bred into him and he loves it. Bo Pittman said that competition in football "pushes you further to be a better player". As one of 11 linebackers, Pittman faced competition each week for the no. 1 position. Even though he was not in the middle linebacker position every week, Pittman still saw action in every game.

The smallest member of the Trojans, Eddie Coleman, at 5-foot-8 and 165 pounds, said that his quickness is one of his talents. "I feel great about my size; I can prove myself. I like it when other teams look at how small I am and I'm able to fake them out and outrun them." He credited his running ability to the offensive line. He also said that the morale of the team helped too. The players worked harder and were more focused on winning. Coleman graduated from Thomasville High School and attended Northeast Oklahoma University for one year. There, he played tailback and then transferred to Troy to be closer to home.

Everyone has a special goal they want to achieve. The main goal of Senior, Steve Leach, was to "make every tackle." Leach graduated winter quarter with a degree in physical (Cont. on 235) education. He also aspires to play professional football. Leach was ranked second in interceptions and had 63 tackles. Leach said that playing football has helped him mature. "When I first got here, I was a cocky little kid who just got out of high school and now I feel like a young adult who has gained a lot of knowledge."

Senior, Rodney Glass, said that better concentration on technique helped raise his punt average from 33.4 yards to 38.6 yards. Last year his first three punts were blocked, which distracted his thinking. When his punts were blocked, he handled it by going to the sidelines and talking about what went wrong. Glass seemed to be pleased with Larry Blakeney as the new head coach. "He is doing a fine job. It's a big change, but it's all been positive".

Season Is Tied

The 10—woman volleyball team faced a 1991 season that held many changes. The arrival of coach Dee Dee Taylor marked the third coaching change in four years for the Lady Trojans. She served as assistant coach in 1990. More changes will occur as the Trojans move to Division I.

The Lady Trojans won their second Gulf South Conference title in 1990. However, during the 1991 season they faced tougher teams from larger schools since they no longer played in the GSC. They will continue to compete against these schools. The season ended up tied at 15-15.

Seniors on the team were Lisa Page, Melissa Morris, Sharon Burdine, and Sandra Smith. They provided leadership and stability for the team.

Taylor said that she gained a great deal of experience and she is looking forward to next year.

The Lady Trojans used a blend of seasoned veterans and a load of talented newcomers during the 1991-92 season to close out a successful year at 20-6.

After posting a 7-22 record last season, the Lady Trojans astonished Trojan fans by jumping out to the best start in school history and winning their first six games.

"We obviously did a complete turnaround from last year," said TSU women's basketball coach Joyce Sorrell. "One of our main goals was to win 20 games." They accomplished this goal in convincing fashion.

The Lady Trojans were led by Makesha Sampson's 15.7 points per game and Athena Armour's 15.6 PPG. Junior Odessa Wallace led the team in 3—point shooting, hitting 41 percent.

Proving it is better to give than receive, Jennifer Edgar establishes a new TSU record for career assists with 490, breaking Valerie Privett's prior record of 429.

The cheerleaders played an important role in generating school spirit and pride. With this also came hard work. Cheerleading required coordination and stamina during grueling practices and games.

While the transition to Division I involved greater competition in sports, it also required greater competition among the cheerleaders. The TSU cheerleaders got to shine with the best!

At the end of Winter quarter, the cheerleaders began working on tryouts to be held in April.

During 1992, the Universal Cheerleading Association picked three cheerleaders to represent them in Costa Rica to judge its National Cheerleading Finals. The three representatives for UCA were Dan Benchabbat, Trish Gabaldon, and former cheerleader, Robert Ramsey.

A Record Breaking Season

When Don Maestri, head basketball coach at Troy State, looked toward the 1991-92 season, some things he never expected to happen did. These surprises turned out to be pleasant ones, and they showed that Maestri laid a solid foundation for TSU's basketball program as it headed toward Division I.

First, in what was supposed to be a "rebuilding year" the Trojans won 22 games, and all but one game against Division II opponents. This enabled the Trojans to return to the NCAA Division II post-season tournament for the second consecutive year.

During the season, TSU took on established Division I competition in games against Auburn University, the University of Wyoming and Georgia Southern University — all during TSU's first 15 games on the road.

Led by only two seniors, leading scorer Jack Smith and top rebounder Andy Davis, the Trojans opened eyes throughout the country with a staggering 258-141 win over DeVry Institute on Jan. 12. Along with the record for the most points ever scored in a college basketball game, TSU broke eight other NCAA records. TSU and DeVry combined to break four more.

During the 1992-93 season with TSU returning three starters and several key underclassmen, Maestri might see more pleasant surprises.

'SMOKIN'

Don Maestri completes his ninth year as Troy State's head coach in the 1992 season. His final comments: "I really didn't think that this team would achieve as many different honors as it did. The players had a tremendous confidence in their own ability and a love and respect for each other which attributed to their success."

The Trojans open the 1991-92 season with a 15-game road trip against many Division I teams such as Auburn.

Track, otherwise known as a team sport, had many reflections as more of an individual sport. Track was a sport that required much skill and practice. Undoubtedly, the Troy State track team showed both of these, not to mention their determination and struggle to be the best; individually and as a team.

Much elation was felt this season, not just by the team, but also by everyone affiliated with Troy State. It had been five years since Troy State University sent someone to the NCAA Division II National meet. But all of that changed when junior, Chris Kohlstead and junior, Marcus Woody announced that they were going to compete in nationals at San Angelo, Texas. Woody competed in the 800 meter dash and Kohlstead competed in the 1500 meter run. Earlier in the season, Marcus Woody finished second in Tuscaloosa's Crimson Classic with a time of 1:51.52. Kohlstead also made Troy State proud by bringing home a third place ranking.

From the very beginning of the year, the Troy State University golf team was described as one with potential. The Trojans had four seniors to return from last year. During the course of the season the golf team won three tournaments and ended their year being ranked second place in the nation which was an improvement over the past two years fourth place rank.

Head coach Barney Burnett said that the team "played well enough to win." He also praised the five players who made All-American. Three players were recognized as Senior Paul Reid — First Team All-American; Freshman Matt Robbins — Second Team All-American and Senior Brian Etheridge who was named Scholar All-American.

The Trojans will lose four players from the team, but Coach Burnett is looking for another top team next year as a result of talent of the remaining players and some good recruits.

Bottom: Second baseman, Kelly Shotwell, throws to first base to get an out.

The Lady Trojans proved to have a successful season. Their ending record was 22-19. At the end of the season, the team traveled to Mississippi University to compete in the women's tournament. They finished the tournament with a 2-3 record.

Many individual players deserved special recognition for their achievements. Deanne Hughes ended with a .380 batting average with 6 doubles and 23 runs batted in. Liz Bender led the team with nine stolen bases. Pitcher, Cathy Carver led in victories to post a 10-7 record. And Kristen Peaspanen spiced up the season by hitting three home runs.

In her first year as head coach, Dee Dee Taylor proved to be strong and strategic. Also, her assistant coach, Marty Barrett was a great deal of help. The team worked together well and maintained a strong opponent for the teams they played. Sadly enough, the team suffered a loss of 7 players to graduation. But three of the starters will return next season; Kristen Peaspanen, Linda Giasone and Jenni Frisbey.

Agility and endurance are two qualities that Rickard Nilsson possesses.

Jennifer Walker works diligently to do her best.

The men's and women's tennis teams faced tough opponents this past year. They stood up against some Division I schools, beating Florida A & M and Western Kentucky.

"We had a good year considering the quality of competition we were playing. We played some top notch NAIA schools and some top Division I schools," Coach Duane Paxson said.

Paxson also said that John Miller, Howard Bearry and Rickard Nilsson were key players for the men and that Jennifer Walker had another standout season.

Next year should be a strong one for the tennis teams if they continue with their consistency and dedication.

Despite Record, Trojans Are Winners

After clinching the title of East Division Champions of the Gulf South Conference in 1991, the Troy State Trojans said goodbye to the GSC and entered the independent ranks of Division II Baseball. The Trojans came into the 1992 season with a new look, many new faces and a much tougher schedule.

Head Coach, John Mayotte, entered his second season as the skipper of the Trojans, compiling a record of 34 wins and 19 losses in his inaugural season. During this past year the Trojans finished with a record of 10 and 2 in the GSC East Division, and finished the season ranked 14th in the Division II poll.

Graduation had the biggest effect on the 1992 squad, losing eight starters and 16 lettermen in all. Two Trojans were drafted into professional baseball, (Con't on 265)

Andy Dolson signed with the Toronto Blue Jays, and Keith Black landed a spot with the St. Louis Cardinals. Other losses included Jody Singleton, Tracy Lee, Joel Smith, Ed Alford and Terry Waters.

The Trojans also beefed up their schedule for 1992 playing 20 Div. I opponents, facing the likes of Auburn, Michigan State and Massachusetts. To make things tougher, the Trojans played only 21 games at Riddle-Pace Field. Entering the month of May, TSU posted a record of 23 and 20, sweeping double-headers against Florida A&M, Olivet Nazarene and Livingston. Other key wins came against Div. I opponents Stetson, Vermont and Georgia State.

Despite their record, Coach Mayotte and his young squad made significant steps toward making their presence known in the world of Div. I baseball.

A Traditional Transition Administration

The faculty and staff offer support, knowledge and excitement to students at TSU. The administration gets fired up for Homecoming week by wearing TSU colors and cheering for the Trojans.

Virgil Collins and the Square Root of C Math Club remain a constant at Troy State. —1962

The Troy State University founders who started building a dream more than a century ago would look with a smile at the 1992 version of TSU.

The world around them was quite different 100 years ago. The tools and resources they drew on to shape a fledgling college into a quality source of education did not quite resemble modern-day counterparts.

Yet, the goal they sought to achieve might well have been the motto embraced by a university posed to enter a new millennium.

"Quality Education, One Student at a Time," must have been the goal of TSU's founding fathers. And it remains the goal today.

In a constantly changing world, administrations old and new enemies, taken on different challenges and faced the stark reality of problems ranging from financial crunches to crowded classrooms.

But at TSU, the challenges are accepted without fear and met with success.

That is a tradition that will never change in the face of transition.

Top Left: A true original, Dr. John Carroll, retired from Troy only to make history in Arizona. —cir. 1981

Top Right: Not only did Dr. Doug Hawkins charter the TSU Greek system, but he continues his support. —1992

Bottom: A chancellor's job involves working with administrators as well as students. —1992

The more things change, the more they stay the same.

As Troy State moves toward the 21st century, the championship tradition established in the 1990s will serve as the foundation that will keep us strong. Change becomes more than a cliché when we think about the qualities that make Troy State special — leadership, service and friendship.

For more than a century, Troy State has been the center for progressive higher education. Founded in 1887 as Troy Normal School, the university has made the traditional transition from a school established to train teachers to a worldwide system offering degrees in education and the liberal arts. During this century, TSU athletes have been champions in every sport. Its artists are known throughout the world. Its alumni have become the backbone of many institutions and agencies. Troy State graduates are leaders.

Another valuable TSU tradition is service.

Of course, alumni who have become teachers stand out in every line of education — from classroom to administration to one-on-one counseling. Alumni in every field have become servant leaders. This recognizes that our needs are the needs of the area we serve. So, in business, education, music and environmental science, Troy State touches the lives of Alabama citizens who are striving for quality in their lives and professional pursuits.

Friendship is at the core of TSU tradition.

Our motto "Quality education — one student at a time" begins in the classroom. Students are known by their names not by numbers. This caring environment enhances opportunities for students to make friends for a lifetime.

As Troy State enters the 21st century and its technological era, our desire is to retain our steadfast tradition of leadership, service and friendship.

Whatever transitions a new century brings, we hope it enhances our greatest gift — the TSU experience. TSU 2000 requires that transitions will not be at the expense of heritage.

The Troy State University system is unique because it has campuses across the Southeast and around the world.

TSU in Montgomery is an institution catering to the non-traditional age student. These students come from all walks of life seeking personal growth and professional enrichment while they work and often raise families. TSUM offers associate, bachelor's, master's and education specialist degrees.

During the past year, and under the guidance of Dr. Cameron Martindale, TSUM raised $600,000 for the Eminent Scholars Program. When this goal was met, the Alabama Legislature was obligated to add $400,000 to this amount. Those two combined amounts will never be spent. They will be placed in an endowed fund that will be invested and the return will finance an eminent scholar or activity for TSUM.

TSU in Dothan has academic programs designed for undergraduate students and for graduate students at the master's and sixth-year levels.

TSU also has a branch campus at Fort Rucker, Ala., home of the U.S. Army Aviation Center.

The University College was organized Aug. 1, 1981, as the College of Special Programs. Its primary purpose is the administration of all off campus locations in Europe, the Pacific, Florida, and Georgia. University College students are primarily military personnel and their families.

The walls of Donald Norsworthy's office offer a look at what he brought to Troy State University. His photographs range from a century-old cemetery blanketed in fog to the chancellor's medallion. Each contains intricate details and textures that express Norsworthy's expertise in black and white photography. To him, black and white draws more interest than color and reveals the simplicity in all things.

Norsworthy began work at TSU in 1978 and has spent 16 years as Troy State's chief photographer. In his department, approximately 50-70 photographs are taken per day during the hectic fall and winter quarters. Jobs are done for University Relations, Sports Information, the Palladium and branch campuses.

Student workers fill the photography department. For four years, the students grow and mature while expanding their knowledge in photography. Ed Moseley completed his degree at TSU and now works as Norsworthy's assistant photographer.

Through the years, Norsworthy has photographed Olivia Dehavi-land, Amy Grant, Edward Teller, Winston Churchill III and President George Bush while he served as vice president.

Norsworthy and his photographers work each day to give us an extra view of TSU. Without this view, many aspects of campus life would go unseen.

ALABAMA LITERARY REVIEW

Spring 1987

Spring/Summer 1991

Volume 5, Number 1

Volume 1

Since its initial publication in 1987, the Alabama Literary Review has served the Troy State University Community by encouraging its most creative members to publish their works, by providing a medium for criticism and by acquainting the public with the diverse range of talent on campus, throughout the state and abroad.

The ALR publishes poetry, fiction, short drama, interviews, essays, book reviews, photographs and graphic art. Approximately 250 entries are received each month. In each issue, 12 to 15 short stories, 12 poems, eight to 10 essays or book reviews and 12 black and white photographs are selected for publication.

Because of its wide range of national publicity, ALR is a free service to all Alabama public libraries and Alabama two-and-four-year institutions of higher learning.

This year the ALR was named by Writer's Digest Magazine as one of the "Top Fifty in Fiction." Library Journal called ALR "A good representation of contemporary arts and letters."

ALR is listed in American Humanities Index, Novel & Short Story Writer's Market, Dustbooks, and Photographer's Market.

Alabamians published in the ALR include: Elise Sanguinetti, Anniston; Larry McLeod, Goshen; Alan T. Belsches, Dothan; Warren St. John, Birmingham; Claire and Gerald C. Morton, Montgomery; Emma Coburn Norris, Montgomery; Helen Norris, Montgomery; Benjamin Williams, Montgomery; and T.S. Smith, writer-in-residence at Auburn University.

The ALR is supported in part by a grant from the Alabama State Council on the Arts. Other contributors include: TSU, Southern Natural Gas and the Montgomery Advertiser.

The staff of the ALR includes faculty members of the English and Art departments. Dr. Theron Montgomery currently serves as chief editor.

Katy and Jodi,

May 25, 1992

"What's your major?"

Have you ever heard that question before? Well I have and I am very glad. The two of you have made such an impact on my life that I can't even begin to explain it. You have cried with me when things were tough, and then prayed for me when I thought they wouldn't get any better. I remember many trips to Food World in the middle of the night and many late-night talks. You are two of the greatest things that have ever happened to me.

I always knew that you would graduate before me, but I guess I never really thought that day would come. Now it has and it is time to say goodbye. Not to our friendship, but to all the times we have spent together. I will never forget all our memories, and I will use them for comfort when I get lonely. Do well for yourselves and remember that I can always be found if you need me.

I love you both,
Laura

Editor's Note

Our junior year brought many transitions as well as challenges. The greatest of which was this year's Palladium. Although 80 years appears as a lifetime through the eyes of a college student, we as co-editors reflected back to recognize the importance of tradition. Not only have we gained insight concerning life at Troy State University, but also we have become more aware of our own creative ideas and abilities. Regardless of the questions and doubts concerning our co-editorship, we have completed a book and begun a friendship which has bound together lasting memories.

Developing a theme, organizing the office and heading staff meetings were only the essentials of being co-editors. While one of us created copy, the other would draw layouts. Teamwork became the key. We celebrated our first deadline by shoepolishing Mr. McKerral's car and announcing to everyone that the pages were on their way to North Carolina in the "little brown truck." As the year progressed, more bonding was needed for the two of us to survive. When we spent the night in the Adams Center, stress relievers were a must. We began by yelling "What would I do without you? I think I would die!" which led to singing country songs and doing a few cheerleading jumps to keep us awake. We shared the excitement of proof pages from Delmar, birthdays at 12:00 am, Jennifer being selected as Panhellenic President and the creation of the "Hampsters." Meanwhile we experienced stress, anxiety and tears concerning more than just the Palladium. As Siamese twins, we have experienced so much that has brought us together.

With a task this great, not even co-editors could do it alone. We not only received much help and support from co-workers, faculty, family and friends but also were able to become closer to some of these individuals. We appreciate Carol Dukelow being so patient and helpful with layout changes and good yearbook advise. We thank Mr. McKerral for being such a "UGE" influence in our lives. We will never forget Mendy's messy desk, Paula's frantic phone calls, Cassie's many trips to Montgomery, Amy's boy stories, Angie's personal soap opera, Tonya's "talking all the time," Brooke's little notes, Diana's attentive work schedule, Connie's sacrificing of a nail or two and Sabrena's artistic touch. And last but not least, a special thank you to our personal confidante, true gentleman, constructive critic, star gazer and "Hamster" friend Brandon Brazil.

As we close the cover on the 1992 Palladium, we are overwhelmed with a feeling of accomplishment and yet a touch of sadness. Both of us have gained stronger appreciation, stronger education and stronger friendships that will never be forgotten. We hope that you will learn from as well as enjoy this edition of the Palladium. Hard work, persistence and dedication have bound together these memory laden pages that represent TSU's "Traditions and Transitions."

Gen and Dee ☺
